The most important category in the enumeration district data, Table 5, is the child population expansion. The child population expansion is defined by the U. S. Bureau of Census as being "the ratio of the number of children aged 5-9 to the number of children aged 10-14. It is a measure of growth of a population through the expansion of the number of children. The ratio should be near 1.000 for a population which is replacing itself; below 1.000 for a declining population." Minor Population, as reflected in Table 5, indicates the percentage of the total population under 21 years of age. ("Elderly Population" is the percentage of total population which is 65 years of age or older.)
